

This is 4R country.

Proudly supporting Canadian farmers

Get your acres counted, we'll get the word out

Canadian farmers have long been at the forefront of 4R Nutrient Stewardship. Now, more than ever, it's time to prove it. Get your acres counted by adopting, completing, and implementing the 4R Nutrient Stewardship system on your farm. On behalf of the growers, we will aggregate and report data to stakeholders over time. Not only will you become 4R Designated, you'll be making a difference to the environment and improving your bottom line. So make sure your acres are counted.
